EXCITING DAY IN LONDON.

DISCOVERY OF A DYNAMITE FACTORY IN FULL OPERATION.

Half a Ton of Nitro-Glycerine Seized in the City—Four Men Arrested; One Having a Gun—Party of Explosives in His Quarters—Extra Sentinels Guarding Windsor Castle and the Government Offices—An Attempt made on a Postbox Magazine in Ireland.

LONDON, April 5.—The exciting events of the day have crowded on each other so fast that their importance could scarcely be realized until the later hours of the night admitted of a complete summing up. These events include the unearthing of the most important dynamite factory ever discovered, the arrest of four dynamite workers in London and one in Birmingham, an attempt on a Government magazine in Ireland, the reception of an incendiary letter in London, and the discovery of an astounding and audacious scheme of nihilists to blow up the royal abode at Windsor. The excitement over these events was not confined to the Government offices, but spread to the public, the usual observer on the street, the prompt and active precautionary steps that were taken by Government officials were highly commendable on all sides. Not only did the Post Office and the neighboring Government property put under an increased guard, but the royal residence at Windsor was supplied with a large force of sentinels, who were, however, sent thither in a private and unostentatious manner. This was rendered more necessary because it was known to Government officers that late last night, in connection with the discovery of the dynamite factory in Birmingham, a report was received that some conspirators were already on their way to Windsor from Birmingham. It is asserted with some confidence in official circles that there is reason to believe that the whole incendiary and dynamite conspiracy, both here and in America, will now be laid bare, and that the number of arrests will soon increase.

The first arrest was brought about in this way: A semi-weekly newspaper called the City Press last evening announced that it had received a letter, without signature, in which the writer threatened to blow up the Government offices. The letter was referred to the police, and late last night English detectives, assisted by members of the Irish Secret Service, arrested a man who had in his possession a quantity of stuff supposed to be dynamite. The detective had followed the prisoner from Manchester, as he appeared to be a suspicious character, and when the letter appeared he was at once arrested, being then in the neighborhood of Fleet street. He is now at the Bow street station to await the report of the army officials at Woolwich, who are engaged in a chemical examination of the explosive compound found upon him. To-day the Irish police made two other arrests in the suburbs of Bethnal Green, and the police regard the arrests as most important, as they are evidence of the fact that since they were made precautionary measures have been renewed. Special attention is being given to the protection of the buildings in which are located the offices of the Ministry and of all public officers. Extra sentinels have been posted at Windsor Castle, where the Queen is still residing, and about the Post Office. Keen-eyed policemen and detectives are watching every corner where dynamite bombs or incendiaries could possibly be expected to work. Nitro-glycerine has been discovered in London, a few hundred yards from the residence of the Queen, and a few devoted and practical Irishmen living here. They don't believe it is possible to make dynamite by the most expeditious method. As such they cheerfully give a first subscription to cooperate with the English people who propose to strike at him.

You can tell the English Government and the English people that we propose to strike at him.

He was released on bail, and, standing up to-day, he was arraigned before the magistrate.

He was remanded to prison, and, according to the authorities, that is a sign of his guilt.

Henry Dalton is a man of short stature, and is said to be a Bowler American, a well-known player, and a member of the Lambeth club. His arrest was effected owing to information derived from papers which were believed by the authorities that Dalton is an emissary of the dynamite factory in America. The man arrested with Dalton is a member of the Lambeth club, and the Lambeth club found him proving his connection with Whitehead. The Woolwich authorities informed the court that Dalton's portmanteau was packed with explosives.

At the time of his arrest, Dalton was accused of having been a party to the entry into the office of the Local Government Board in Westminster. He will probably be arraigned before the magistrate to-morrow morning.

They were not arraigned yesterday because, in view of the documents seized, the police intended to make some other arrests, and the trial was adjourned.

After the contents had been tested, it was discovered that there was no dynamite in the Plumstead Marshes. There it was immersed in water, where it will be kept until the officials can safely dispose of the contents.

On Monday night, when he knew of the dynamite attack in Birmingham, he was released.
